

THE NORTH WEST POLICE BENEVOLENT FUND - WE CARE AND SUPPORT

Jackie Smithies Secretary

www.nwpbf.org

Each month the payslips of the majority of Police Officers will indicate a £7.40 (See Payroll Giving) deduction to the North West Police Benevolent Fund.

Whilst you see in your pay slip a deduction of £7.40, this is deducted from the members gross pay total before tax is applied therefore there is tax relief on the £7.40 at the rate the member pays tax, the net result with regard to donations for a 20% tax payer, the actual cost is £5.92 per month, and for a 40% tax payer, £4.44 per month.

For retired officers the monthly donation is £5.00 and again the tax element is saved on this amount when deducted from your police pension so for a 20% tax payer the actual cost is £4.00 and for a 40% tax payer £3.00

From time to time I will be asked quite reasonably "What do I get for my money?" If, like me, they joined the service at a time when very little was explained, they will have little understanding of the funds we were 'invited' to join, and like me they would have ticked all the boxes when told. Well it's never too late to learn so I hope that what follows will provide a little enlightenment on the work of the Benevolent Fund.

In 1974 when the North West Police Benevolent Fund was formed, it was believed to have been the first time in the history of the British Police Service that three large Police Forces had brought together independent welfare funds and combined them into one fund.

In January 2008 Lancashire Constabulary merged their Benevolent Fund into the North West Police Benevolent Fund. In 2011 the NCA also joined the Fund and in 2012 Cumbria Constabulary also joined. The majority of serving Officers in GMP, Merseyside, Cheshire, Cumbria and Lancashire contribute to the fund.

WHAT IS THE OBJECT OF THE FUND?

The object of the fund is to relieve members when they are in need.

None of us know when we or members of our immediate family will find themselves in need, a family crisis, a sudden bereavement, an unexpected illness, a temporary financial hardship. Such things don't just affect pensioners we are all vulnerable to life's events! It is comforting to know that the North West Police Benevolent Fund is there to care and support.

In plain English the fund provides the following services for members, both serving and retired officers and their immediate family, widow(er)s and surviving partners.

HOW CAN IT HELP ME?

Convalescence

This facility alone should convince serving officers of the benefit of being a member of the Fund.

Policing is an uncertain job and that was one aspect which I am sure attracted many of us to join in the first instance but at any time illness or injury might present itself to us as individuals or to our families.

LOANS AND GRANTS

Members, police pensioners, dependants and widow(er)s, surviving partners who are in a condition of hardship and need can be helped by way of a monetary grant or loan to pay for items or services which will alleviate their suffering and generally assist them. (Does not cover private health care, private education or university fees, legal fees or private caring fees).

Each month the Management Committee meet to consider such applications to decide whether a grant or loan should be made.

DEATH BENEFIT

In the event of the death of a police officer member of the Fund, a sum of £5000 will be paid to the dependants within a working day of the notification of the death. We are aware that money is no consolation for the loss of a loved one, but it can be a comfort to know that one's dependants' immediate expenses are catered for.

CONFIDENTIALITY

Confidentiality is paramount to the operation of the Fund but this naturally restricts our ability to promote the good things that the Fund has done. I have concerns when officers cease to subscribe to the Fund since this not only affects our ability to help that individual and their family but it has a knock on effect on our helping others.

THE FUTURE

We all look with anticipation to our retirement day, for some it comes earlier than was expected. Some of us will decide to cut ourselves adrift from any police connections except our monthly pension! That is the choice of the individual but it must offer some comfort to know that the Benevolent Fund will always be there for the individual and their family for all time! Once you become a police pensioner the monthly contribution is £5.00 which again is subject to tax relief so costs £4.00.

Working as the Secretary of the Benevolent Fund has brought the reality of life and its fragility home with a vengeance, people with whom I have served now finding themselves in need of help, you can't get any more real than that!
